Using the float property

Contents

Use float to create a homepage

Create a homepage with a header, footer, left content and main content.

1. Within your HTML code, create the following div classes:

   - container (insert after body element)
   - header (insert before h1 element and within h1 element)
   - left (insert before he first p element)
   - content (insert after first p)
   - footer (insert before second p element)

2. Within your CSS code, set the desired value for the following attributes for the classes:

   - div.container - width, margin, border, line-height
   - div.header, div.footer - padding, color, background-color, clear
   - h1.header - padding, margin
   - div.left - float, width, margin, padding
   - div.content - margin-left, border-left, padding